Writes Name Beside Letter and Exposes Glaring Effrontery of Karel Campaign Roorback

The Karel Roorback has reached La Crosse, and for a piece of cold-blooded impudence it is astounding.
In a word, it is a letter circulated among prominent voters, purporting to be signed by John P. Salzer, enclosing a list of telephone calls and asking the recipient to call the numbers and make a plea for votes for Karel.

The signature of Mr. Salzer's name is a rank forgery, as comparison with the original shows.
Mr. Salzer stamps the signature
as a forgery, and says:

"The thing is done without my authority, knowledge or consent. I never heard of the scheme until people began calling me on the telephone today.

Following is one of the letters,
received by Frank Sisson:

"Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 31, 1914.
"Dear Sir:—

"If you will telephone to the person on the enclosed list and plead with them to vote for John C. Karel for governor on Tuesday, and just before the polls close again remind them of the necessity of voting, we cannot lose. If you fail to do this, we may not win. This is your opportunity to do Judge Karel a personal service.

"Now, if you find anyone on this list who is not with us, make him feel as good as you can and tell him to stay at home.

"J. P. SALZER"
Mr. Salzer, himself, received one of the fake letters bearing a forgery
of his own signature.

ACCIDENT STIRS FARMERS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 2.— Peter Miregler is dying in a local hospital today and his neighbors are threatening to lynch the next motorist whose machine is responsible for an accident in their vicinity. Miregler, a farmer, was struck as he was returning to his home on Sunday night, and the motorists left him lying in the road.

RE-OPEN WIRE TO PORT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—American communication with Constantinople was reopened shortly after noon today, when a message from Ambassador Morcanthau was forwarded to the state department. The last previous message from him was dated at 11 p. m. October 30.

WEATHER

Temperatures yesterday:
High, 67.
Low, 38.
Precipitation, 0.

Forecast for La Crosse and vicinity: Generally fair tonight and Tuesday, colder Tuesday.

For Wisconsin: Increasing cloudiness with probably showers late tonight or Tuesday; warmer east portion tonight; cooler Tuesday; fresh winds becoming west.

For Minnesota: Generally fair tonight and Thursday, except showers northeast portion tonight; cooler
west portion tonight and south portion Tuesday; fresh shifting winds.

For Iowa: Fair tonight and Tuesday; warmer east and cooler northwest portion tonight; cooler Tuesday.

Weather Conditions
Storm areas are central this morning in the lower St. Lawrence valley and in Saskatchewan. The eastern storm has caused light showers
from the upper lakes to the north Atlantic coast during the past 24 hours and the western storm, light rain in the Canadian northwest and higher temperature throughout the northwestern states. Areas of high pressure are central over the gulf states and the Pacific slope.

These pressure conditions indicate generally fair weather in this section for tonight and Tuesday with lower temperature Tuesday.

A VOTE FOR PHILIPP IS A VOTE FOR KAREL

Here is evidence of it over the signature of P. J.
Yerly, chairman of the local committee that has charge of Mr. Philipp's campaign. Read the following letter, signed by Chairman Yerly:

Oct. 31, 1914.

Dear Sir:—

Please come to a meeting which will be held at the Republican Headquarters at 8 P. M. October 26th. It is very important that you attend for at that meeting it will be determined whether or not any further campaign shall be carried on in this county.

Yours very truly,

P. J. Yerly
Chairman.

PJY-MAS

Was not the Philipp committee ready to throw up the sponge for Mr. Philipp as early as Oct. 25, when this letter was written? What else can one make out of the fact that the Philipp committee was seriously considering whether "any further campaign shall be carried on in this county?"

Don't be deceived. Philipp is out of the race. It will be Blaine or Karel. If you are against Karel you MUST VOTE FOR BLAINE TO BEAT KAREL. A vote for PHILIPP is a vote for KAREL!

OPTIMISM GREAT ON EVE OF BIG STATE ELECTION

Chairmen of all Parties Predict "Sweeping Victories" for Their Candidates

BLAINE TO RUN STRONG HERE
Independent Candidate Sure of Corraling Many Votes and will Get Great Share of County

With the state, county and congressional campaign to close tonight leaders of the Blaine independent, republican and democratic movements predict "sweeping victories"
for all candidates.

Blaine will be the center of interest tomorrow and while leaders of both old parties contend that Philipp and Karel are the real contestants it is a fact that the independent will poll an unusually heavy vote in La Crosse county. Some of the older political forecasters maintain he will carry the county by a big vote.

The independent is strong, especially in the country and a large county vote tomorrow means his carrying of the county, they say.

"We will elect the entire ticket,
state and county," declared P. J.
Yerly, chairman republican county committee this morning. "This will be despite the fact that both papers have indicated a preference for Clinton W. Hunt for clerk of court. Mr. Frank Aiken will run strong and will be elected. That will mean the election of the entire republican ticket."

A. H. Schubert, democratic county chairman, issued the following statement:

"It is not as easy today to make a prediction in political matters as it was in former days when both parties made complete polls of the various election districts. However, from a general knowledge of political affairs obtained from conducting the campaign, I venture to predict that Blaine will certainly not carry La Crosse county, that Philipp will get more votes than Blaine but the split in the republican party will result in La Crosse county going for Judge Karel by a plurality of at least five hundred. Very few democrats will vote for Blaine. Personally I feel confident that the entire democratic county ticket will be elected. They have all given satisfaction during their first term and fair minded voters feel that they are entitled to a second term."

The republican campaign will end with a mass meeting at the theater
at 8 o'clock tonight with Congressman John J. Esch occupying the platform. Mr. Esch will be introduced by County Judge John Brindiey.

The Blaine campaign ends tonight with Senator Otto Bosshard, Assemblyman E. J. Kneen and Attorney Charles H. Schweizer as speakers at Bangor, and with James Thompson and Frank P. Coburn at the Crystal theater in the city of Onalaska.

Making their last bids for votes in the state election tomorrow, most of the state ticket leaders today spoke

PARTIAL QUARANTINE ON CHICAGO YARDS

Can Receive Cattle, Sheep and Hogs for Immediate Slaughter Says Federal Order

FIRST ORDER MADE BAN COMPLETE

Largest Stock Yards in the World Closed Today to Check Spread of Hoof
and Mouth Disease

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Following a conference between federal authorities and representatives of the big packing houses, it was announced this afternoon that the order virtually closing the Chicago Stock Yards, and placing Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan under quarantine, has been modified.

A new order issued this afternoon modifies the original drastic regulation by permitting the shipment of animals to the stock yards, provided they are for immediate slaughter.
This will prevent a shutting down of the big packing houses.
If this modified order does not have the desired effect, it was intimated that the original order issued this morning will be reinstated.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Drastic steps to stop the ravages of the "foot and mouth" disease among livestock in Indiana and southern Michigan was taken today. The Chicago stockyards, the largest in the world, and all stock yards in the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan were ordered closed to hogs, cattle and sheep by Dr. R. A. Ramsey, chief of the field inspection of the federal bureau of animal industry. Dr.
Ramsey, who came here from Washington to take charge of the situation, directed that after 10 o'clock

tonight, no sheep, cattle or hogs shall be received at the Chicago stock yards or at any other yards affected by the quarantine order. An exception is made in the case of livestock enroute to the Chicago market. These will be handled in the same manner as those received before the quarantine went into effect.
No time limit was set.

The ban is also put on shipments

SULTAN TO CALL THE FAITHFUL TO FLAG OF HOLY WAR

Turkish Ambassador in Berlin Says Steps Have Been Taken to Annex Egypt

GERMANS REPORT ADVANCES

Say They Are Going Ahead
in Belgium and Have Also Moved to West
of Lille

AUSTRIANS REPORT VICTORIES

Russian Column Reported Defeated Near Galician and Bukovina Border

BERLIN, Via The Hague, Nov. 2.—
The Turkish ambassador here, in a statement issued today, declared that Turkey will declare a holy war
at once. He says that the sultan already has sent a circular to the powers in which he takes the position that the British army in Egypt has prevented the exercise of his sovereignty, therefore the annexation of Egypt was a step of absolute necessity.

Gains Reported
A brief official bulletin issued today stated that in the west the Germans had made material gains at certain points along the right wing especially to the north of Ypres. The German lines have also been advanced west of Lille to Laventie in the face of determined opposition.

A wireless from Vienna says:
"Near the Galician and Bukovina border the Austrian troops have defeated a Russian column."

"We have reoccupied the Bukowina district. The Russian army of occupation behaved like beasts, pillaging houses, ravishing women and executing people without reason."

Beat Servians
Another message from Vienna
says that the Austrians on Saturday successfully attacked the strongly fortified Servian positions near Horvitz. The Austrians in the face of an obstinate Servian defense, have crossed the Save and Drina rivers.

Situation Favorable BERLIN, Nov. 2.—Via Wireless
from Sayville to the United Press
—A statement issued by the official press bureau today says the situation along the battle line in France is considered far more favorable than at any time since the fighting was extended into the north. It asserts that the fighting in Russian Poland has not recommenced, but that the battle in Galicia seems to be approaching a decisive period.

"The progress of the battle in the northern French front localities is considered here as highly favorable," the statement declared. "Letters from the front describe the fighting between Neuport and Ypres
as probably the fiercest of the entire war. The German have forced their way southward by repeated night attacks. The toll on both sides is terrible."

No Fight in Poland
"The battle in Poland has not yet been recommenced. In Galicia, the battle, however, seems to be approaching the decisive stage. A dispatch from racow says that the Russians have been thrown back across the San and have been ejected from Lezaisk whence the Austrians have pursued them twenty kilometres."

"The exploits of the Turkish fleet which bombarded Odessa and Sevastopol, destroying two Russian warships, nineteen transports and several oil tanks, has created the wildest enthusiasm here."

"The impartial of Madrid, reports dangerous unrest in Algeria where the natives are refusing military service and are killing French police."

Bulgars Befriend Turks
"The semi-official Echo de Bulgaria, at Sofia, says that the relations between Bulgaria and Turkey are splendid, both countries remembering the lessons of 1912-1913. The secretary of the king of Bulgaria went to Constantinople to confer with the Turkish officials."

"The German government is organizing civil administrations in the French mining district of Longwy
and Briey, where ore pits worth 225,000,000 francs are located."

"Bitter quarrels between the French and the British at the detention camp at Darmstadt have made it necessary to separate the prisoners of each nationality."

PROTESTS CRANE DONATION
MADISON, Wis., Nov. 2.—H. H.
Morgan, chairman of the republican county committee, has publicly protested the alleged contribution of $1,000 by Charles R. Crane of Chicago to the Blaine campaign fund.
He interprets it as an attempt with outside money to influence Wisconsin elections.

INVESTIGATE GALLERY FIRE
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 2.—Fire Marshall William G. End today is investigating the fire which destroyed
the J. C. Iverson art gallery late Saturday night with a loss of $26,- 000.

TURKS REPORTED IN EGYPT

Unconfirmed Dispatch Says Eight Army Corps Have

Frontier

FLEET SAILS FOR DARDANELLES

Reported that the Franco-British Fleet Has Left Cattaro and Sailed to East

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The Turkish situation demanded the attention of high officialdom today. Communication with Constantinople ceased immediately following the departure from the porte of the ambassadors of Great Britain, France and Russia. It is reported, however, that Turkey has retained all of the Russian consulate representative as hostages for the Turkish representative now in Russia. The belief is expressed that they will shortly be released, as Petrograd advises say
the Turkish ambassador to Russia,
his staff and the various Turkish consuls have started for home.

Already Into Egypt?
The reports persist that eight army corps of Turkish troops have already crossed the Egyptian frontier. The official press bureau, however, while permitting the publication of the report, has no confirmation.

A rigid censorship is in effect on news from the east. This is believed to be due to plans on the part of the Franco-British fleet to attack
the forts of the Dardanelles. Reports reaching here from Italian sources indicate that the heavy battleships, battle cruisers and armored cruisers of the fleet which have been bombarding Cattaro, at the mouth of the Adriatic, steamed away from there Saturday in an easterly direction. It is believed they have proceeded to the naval base tendered at the outbreak of the war by Greece from which point they will be within striking distance of the Dardanelles.

The assertion is made here that the Turks can do little damage in an invasion of Egypt. Earl Kitchener has taken every precaution. There is not a foot of the Suez canal which was not closely guarded.

It is further insisted here that,
even though the sultan carries out his threats as recorded via Berlin and declares a holy war, the Egyptian troops will remain loyal. The separation between church and state
so far as the Mohammedans are concerned has been greatly emphasized
in the last few years.

It is reported here that a new Turkish cabinet is being formed which will be made up entirely of young Turks and which will eliminate the few ministers who have opposed war. Enver Bey will remain at his post as war minister, but the new cabinet will be picked by General Leman Von Sanders, the German dictator.

The Turkish ambassador to England, Tewfik Pasha, will leave tomorrow for home. He was handed his passports today, following a visit to the foreign office, where he regretfully expressed his sorrow over the latest developments. It is known that his advice to the very last to his home government was to remain neutral.

Simultaneous with this action here
the Turkish charge d'affaires in Petrograd was handed his passports,
and it is understood he immediately left for the frontier. It is seriously doubted here whether there will be any formal declaration of war by Turkey. If not, then one will be served by the allies on the Turkish government.

No Harm at Sevastopol Reports from Petrograd said that the Turkish bombardment of Sevastopol resulted in practically no damage. It was led by the battle cruiser Goeben, now known as the Sultan Selim, and after firing several broadsides against the Sevastopol railroads and docks, she disappeared
when the short batteries got into action.

BERLIN, Wis., Nov. 2.—Nearly the entire estate of $100,000 left by ward the establishment and maintenance of a home for the destitute aged of both sexes in Berlin.

nand Luebke, a farmer, is dead today as the result of being struck by an automobile in front of his home, near here.

REPORTED TURKEY HAS ISSUED APOLOGY FOR BLACK SEA PORT RAID

LONDON, Nov. 2.—It was widely reported in diplomatic circles tonight that the Turkish grand vizier has tendered to the powers an apology on behalf of Turkey for the recent bombardment of Russian Black sea ports. No official statement on the subject has yet been made and the foreign office has not confirmed the report.

Should the above report prove true, it is possible that Turkey will be able to keep out of the war. There has been an attempt on the part of the allies to have her disavow the acts of the Turkish fleet which it is admitted were in reality ordered by the German officials who dominate the Young Turks. It is certain that a disavowal and the meeting of the demands that the Goeben and Breslau be interned and disarmed will be accepted by the allies.

Turkish Ships Sunk
ATHENS, Via Rome, Nov. 2.—The Turkish gunboat Dubawreiss and the Turkish armored steamer Kinaliada have been sunk in the gulf of Techehme. One report says that they were sunk by guns of the British Mediterranean fleet, although reports received here from Turkish sources say that the Turkish commanders blew up their ships in order to prevent capture.

After Roumania.
BUCHAREST, Roumania, Nov. 2.—Bucharest was today the center of the diplomatic negotiations on which hinges the attitude of the Balkan powers toward the European war. Representatives of the allies and also of Germany and Austria are moving every wheel in the effort to gain the support of the Balkan states. The allies are being assisted by the Greek diplomatic representatives. The latter are doing their best to persuade Serbia to turn Servian Macedonia back to Bulgaria, as a reward for participation in the war on the side of the allies. In return they promise that Serbia will be permitted to annex Bosnia should the war result in favor of the allies.
Up to the present there has been no result in the negotiations.

Bulgaria Mobilizes
NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—A special dispatch from Sofia says that Bulgaria had ordered the mobilization of her second line of troops, the first line already having been mobilized.

War Declaration Withheld PETROGRAD, Nov. 2.—Although the Turkish ambassador has been handed his passports and the representatives of the allied powers have all left Turkey, Russia has up to the present taken no aggressive step against the Turks, and there has been no formal declaration of war.
There is a disposition on the part of the government to force Turkey to take the entire initiative for the present.

To Attack Egypt
It is believed certain here that Turkey will concentrate her efforts against England in Egypt. A holy war is expected to be proclaimed by the sultan but there is a general feeling here that it will meet with little sympathy from the Mohammedans of Egypt or India. Russia is well satisfied with the prospect of war with Turkey. Balked for years of an open outlet for her commerce
through the Black sea she will now be able to take it with the consent of the very powers who, in the past, have opposed her.

Definite assurances have been received from Bulgaria that she intends remaining neutral. It is possible that later she will enter the war but for the present her nearbankruptcy promises to keep her hands tied.

Press Back Germans
The Russian forces advancing through Russian Poland continue to press back the Germans in Suwalki while beyond the Vistula they have occupied Piotrk, Opoczno and Oza-row. The Germans have now been pushed to within twenty miles of their positions along the Warta river.

It is declared here that when the Germans found themselves unable to move their artillery through the deep mud which marked their entire line of retreat they buried many guns, most of which have now been recovered by the Russians.

Retake Czernowitz
BUCHAREST, Nov. 2.—Czerno-witz, capital of Bukovina, which was reoccupied by the Hungarian troops following the withdrawal of the Russian left wing to aid in the fighting along the San, was retaken
by the Russians Sunday, following a severe battle, according to a special dispatch from there today. The Hungarians, it is stated, were defeated with heavy losses.

France Recalls Envoy
BORDEAUX, Nov. 2.—It was officially announced here this afternoon that France, in common with her allies, has severed diplomatic relations with Turkey. The French ambassador at Constantinople demanded and received his passports on Saturday. The French interests in Turkey have been turned over to the United States while France's affairs in Palestine will be cared for by the Spanish diplomatic representative.

GERMANS CAPTURE MESSINES WITH BAYONET CHARGES

This Is Only Success of Teuton Arms Reported
Today by French
War Office

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Nov. 2.—At only one point along the entire northern front has the German right wing been able to check the slow but steady advance of the allies. This is at the village of Messines, which has been taken by the Germans in a series of desperate bayonet charges heavily supported by the artillery. The Germans, heavily reinforced, made a supreme effort against the suburbs of Arras and against Linons and Le-quesnot-en-Santerre. The fighting was sanguine and long drawn out,
but the Germans were finally driven back, leaving thousands dead behind them.

The allies are making headway
in the region of the Aisne, having moved toward Tracy-Le-Val and to the north of the forest of L'Aigle. Between this forest and Soissons, before Vaillay, an attack was directed against the troops holding the right bank of the river, but the war office declares that it was repulsed. In this connection, direct issue is taken with the Germans, who claim material advances at this point. The Germans have indulged in a series of night attacks here, but at no point have they been able to pierce
the allied line.

In general, according to the latest official information from Bordeaux, the outlook is constantly improving from the standpoint of the allies. It is declared that although the enemy is bringing its heaviest artillery into play along the right center and the right wing, he has been unable to extend his battle front while the French right is moving forward and gaining ground in the Vosges.

Wake Up, Mr. Voter

Or the Special Interests Will "Put Over" Their Political Trick As Planned for Tuesday—By Means of the PINK BALLOT!

The stage is all set—you are the actor—Tuesday the curtain goes up—when it comes down you will either pay more taxes or less.

Which do you want to do? It's up to you.

Twelve years ago the taxes

in Wisconsin were three million dollars—today they are eighteen millions—you have paid your share and the trusts sit by and smile—and smile at you—and unless you vote NO on the Pink Ballot you will pay more and a plenty.

Shun the Pink Ballot as a Serpent

Let's analyze one of its fangs.

In the Initiative and Referendum Amendment is found this clause:

"No law, making any appropriation for maintaining the State Government or aiding any public institution not exceeding the previous appropriation for the same purpose shall be subject to rejection or repeal under this section."

What does this mean? It means another trick—it means that the interests have carefully arranged so that you may have a voice in small matters, but have as carefully provided that you have nothing to say on the big things—it means that

You Can't Stop the Big Leaks

—they will remain open and you keep them supplied—you are to be their easy mark unless you vote Tuesday and vote NO ten times to prevent all kinds of freak legislation and the creation of useless offices by which you suffer, and for which you pay.

Follow the Advice of the Home Rule and Tax Payer's League:

Vote NO Ten Times! Keep Down Your Taxes!

THE TRIBUNE'S published circulation statement is verified and vouched for by THE ASSOCIATION OF AMERICAN ADVERTISERS.

The Tribune is the only La Crosse newspaper that would submit to a circulation examination.

The Association of American Advertisers under date of September 5th to 9th, 1913, has examined and certified to the circulation of this publication. The A. A. A. guarantees the figure contained in this report.

VOTE ON THESE AMENDMENTS

On the second page of this number of the TRIBUNE appears a paid advertisement entitled, "Wake up, Mr. Voter." It is authorized by the "Home Rule and Taxpayers' league," and is a last desperate effort to defeat the initiative, referendum and recall, and the insurance amendment. Perhaps its character can best be measured by the fact that in the "ad" the "Home Rule league" demands the defeat of the "Home Rule amendment" which even Philipp and Karel had not the audacity to attack.

For this single advertisement somebody paid $35. The advertisement appears in many newspapers, costing in all a fancy sum of money. Day by day we have thrown into the waste basket the propaganda of this organization's press bureau, maintained and operated at great expense to put forth spurious arguments against the amendments. Who, does one suppose, are so deeply interested in defeating measures that will authorize the people to

(1) Compel the passage of just laws dishonest legislatures refused to pass;

(2) Repeal bad laws dishonest legislatures have passed;

(3) Recall from office officials who have been false to their trusts?

Who has been so interested as to spend large sums of money for this purpose?

Must we not presume that the men who pay the money are men who do not want good laws passed over the heads of dishonest legislatures, men who do not want bad laws repealed and do not want unfaithful officials yanked out of office by the people?

T. C. Richmond, secretary of the league, is a Madison lawyer. He has been shouting for economy—state economy. When he appeared for the state in the inheritance tax cases he put in a bill of approximately $19,000 for his services. This bill was so excessive that even his stalwart friend, Governor James O. Davidson, had not the face to honor it and cut it down to less than $8,000. Shall this man, so free with the taxpayers' money, fool a single voter?

There is no institution in the country that has made so much money as the insurance companies. Their profits have made multi-millionaires and poured millions from Wisconsin into the coffers of Wall Street. This insurance law does not necessarily propose that Wisconsin shall go into the insurance business. The state wants to regulate insurance rates. The amendment is meant as a club to force the companies to come to terms. Your pocketbook should guide your ballot.

Let no paid sophistry deter the plain people from voting for these amendments. The appeal of the big interests for their defeat, the alarm of the insurance companies lest they pass, the frenzied campaigning of every insurance agent to kill them—these things in themselves are sure tips to vote "yes."

Take nothing for granted. VOTE as you think on the amendments. Don't assume that they will pass without your vote. Every vote the big interests can get to the polls will be cast against them without fail. Vote in the amendments.

KNEEN DESERVES GREAT VICTORY

There should be no doubt of the re-election of E. J. Kneen as assemblyman from the Second La Crosse Assembly district.

The laboring men of La Crosse should not forget his past services in their behalf, services so valuable that after a full examination he received the unanimous endorsement of the Trades and Labor council less than two months ago. If for any reason any laboring man has a notion to vote against Mr. Kneen, let him pause to consider well whether he will be led by other considerations to vote against his own bread and butter.

Mr. Kneen has served the farmers and villagers of his district with equal intelligence and fidelity, and deserves the handsome endorsement they seem prepared to give him at the polls.

There is an insidious fight in progress against Mr. Kneen because he revolted at the candidacy of Judge Karel. It should bring him votes. Let every voter, republican and democrat, remember that since John F. Doherty called upon democrats to defeat their candidate, not upon his record, but because of his bolting Karel, other Karel leaders have been busily working for his slaughter.

With that in mind, every man who believes Karel should not be elected should vote for Kneen. Every man who is for Blaine or Philipp as against Karel, should vote for Kneen, because Kneen was square and manly, and frankly announced his opposition to a man whom he considered unfit for the office of governor.

GRIMSRUD A STRONG MAN

We believe the people of the Thirty-first senatorial district need no admonition to elect Richard M. Grimsrud to the office of state senator. More citizen than politician, he has devoted his life to the things that make for usefulness rather than to trimming his sails to the veering political winds. Living in an agricultural district, his knowledge of and interest in farming will be of great value to his constituents. On the other hand, he has studied the economic problems of the state from the angle of the taxpayer and citizen with such vigor as to qualify him to step at once into the most important deliberations of the legislature. Grimsrud will strengthen the state senate.

It seems to be one of the conventions of warfare that when you lose a ship it is always "obsolete," and when you abandon a position it is of "no strategic importance."

The cub reporter says it must be nice to be a war correspondent because if you don't get any news you can blame it on the censor.

If someone would invent a trap that would attract flies like the editor's paste jar there'd be a lot less typhoid.

War depression seems to have struck the baseball market. Connie Mack is offering Bender, Plank and Coombs for $1,500, the waiver price.

We hope the censor is keeping a record of what he cuts out of the news, so that the historians will have something to work on.

A man who just got into La Crosse from the war zone says the trip reminded him of that classic journey "from hell to breakfast."

A "White Elephant" Party
A popular society woman announced a "white elephant party." Every guest was to bring something that she could not find any use for and yet too good to throw away. The party would have been a great success but for the unlooked for development which broke it up. Eleven of the nineteen women brought their husbands.

She critically examined the gold sleeve links which were set before her and then requested the clerk to show her another line. She decided on a pair, murmuring to herself, "Yes, I'm sure he'll like these."
"Do you care for any initials, miss?" queried the clerk.
"Oh, yes, I forgot," said she. "I think I'll use his first initial this time. You may engrave the letter 'U' on them."
"U," repeated the clerk as he wrote the instructions down. "May I inquire the name, miss, if it is Uriah or Ulysses? Names commencing with U are so very rare."
"Eugene," replied the young woman, proudly.

The Freaks Increased
A husband and his wife ran a freak show in a certain provincial town, but unfortunately they quarreled and the exhibits were equally divided between them. The wife decided to continue business as an exhibitor at the old address, but the husband went on a tour.
After some years' wandering the prodigal returned and a reconciliation took place, as the result of

NO REASON FOR IT

When La Crosse Citizens Show a Way

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what a La Crosse citizen says:

Mrs. Mary Scales, 1712 Market St., La Crosse, says: "I suffered from lameness across my back and I was tired and worn-out. I didn't know just what was causing the trouble and I didn't seem able to get relief from the remedies I tried. I had often read about Doan's Kidney Pills curing other people of kidney complaint, so I made up my mind to try them. I often suffered from dizzy spells and when I bent over, I was sure to have an attack of backache. Doan's Kidney Pills drove away the lameness and backache and did me a world of good. All that I have said about Doan's Kidney Pills when I have recommended them before, holds good. They can certainly be relied on."

Blood Destruction Stopped and Rebuilt

Worries Overcome, Evidence Brushed Away. The Skin Cleared.

S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, is man's architect. It contemplates the damage done and repairs the damage. It also looks after the possible damage and corrects all tendency to blood eruptions, decay of bones, clogging of joints and any and all of those myriad of destructive effects such as rheumatism, catarrh, swollen glands, sore throat, bronchial affections and the host of infirmities so well known as being caused by impure blood. And now, why should S. S. S. do all this? Simply because it is Nature's antidote, a remedy of searching influence. It contains a powerful, natural ingredient, that sweeps its way to the skin. And in doing this it not only annihilates destructive germs but causes them to be so converted that they are easily and harmlessly voided, expelled or destroyed and then driven out through the natural outlets of the body. Thus let S. S. S. be your safeguard in all blood troubles no matter what they are. It won't fail you. Get a bottle today of any druggist but refuse any and all substitutes.

No Need for Beds

Ollie James, the famous Kentucky congressman and raconteur, hails from a little town in the western part of the state, but his patriotism is state wide, and when Louisville made a bid for the last democratic national convention she had no more enthusiastic supporter than James. A Denver supporter was protesting, "Why, you know, colonel," said he, "Louisville couldn't take care of the crowds. Even by putting cots in the halls, parlors and the dining rooms of the hotels there wouldn't be beds enough."
"Beds!" echoed the genial congressman. "Why, sir, Louisville would make her visitors have such a thundering good time that no gentleman would think of going to bed!"

The First Considerations

The directors were assembled about the long table. Things were going wrong. The bottom had dropped from the gray castings market. There was a discouraging silence. The youngest director spoke up.

"There is but one thing to do, gentlemen," he said. "We must change our product."
A gasp ran round the table. "To what?" It was the president who spoke.

"Metal Polish," "And why metal polish?" "Because," cried the youngest director, "I've got a name and a catch-line for it!"

All the other directors leaned forward. "Arabian Luster," he shouted. "This is the polish Aladdin used when he rubbed his lamp!"

"So the company made metal polish instead of gray castings, and prosperity quickly returned.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Great and sacred is obedience. He who is not able, in the highest majesty of manhood, to obey with clear and open brow a law higher than himself is barren of all faith and love and tightens his chains, moreover, in the struggle to be free.

"You have all heard?" The man seemed fairly beside himself. "By Allah's will, I have set this witch from me. Her beauty hath made me mad—"

Again that laughter! "You hear? She defies me. Now by Allah's will it is done. She must go. I will have no more of her."

Silence! From the big house came no further sound. "A legal divorce, that, all right," the dervish muttered.

Then he yawned again—such comedies, or tragedies are very common—and stretched his lithe figure once more. Life was, indeed, sordid without romance. He looked up at the stars. Strangely enough they seemed now to frame a girl's face—that of the lady of the pastry-shop. He dismissed it and laughed ironically. What had he to do with star dreamings? Had he not outlived them? Broken vows, masculine anger, feminine recriminations, partings—those were the realities the world over, whether in New York or Damascus.

"Were they, indeed?" The stars seemed now to laugh at him. One, like a great pink warm-hued diamond pulsed shamelessly. He turned his back on it and drew his cloak closer. How strong the scent of the flowers! Whence came it—from what garden? He stirred restlessly, then slept again. His next awakening was more startling.

CHAPTER III.

An Astonishing Proposition.
Some one touched him. Instantly weariness left him and he sprang to his feet, every muscle tense. Confronting him were two shadows, ominously near in the dim light. At the dervish's involuntary menacing attitude one of the intruders drew slightly back. A faint glow, like quivering diamond dust, revealed the immediate surroundings.

"What do you want?" Beneath his cloak the dervish's fingers gripped something that was neither Koran nor string of beads. "To speak with you," answered the foremost of the intruders, a little uneasy. As he spoke he glanced back at his companion.

"About what?" demanded the dervish.

"That you will learn later, if you will be good enough to follow us." "I shall learn now, before following," grimly.

"But this—is this no place?" The man's tones, though uncertain, as if he, too, had some doubts as to the wisdom and propriety of his purpose, were courteous enough. "In Allah's name, hesitate no longer, but come."

"I am very comfortable where I am," quietly. "What do you fear?" "I don't fear. Only I am too sleepy to stir. Besides, why should I accompany those whom I do not know?"

"We are honorable men, come as your benefactors." "Do benefactors fall from the sky? And at this hour?" Significantly.

"Deign to follow us, and find out—and for tonight and some days condescend to become our honored guest."

"Guest?" Had he heard aright? The dervish laughed derisively. "What trap is this?" "It is no trap. You will be well fed, finely clothed and given a fat purse into the bargain."

"You but seek to make merry at my expense." Wearily. "Words of truth fall from our lips. We were sent hither to find you."

The dervish started slightly. "To find me?" "Perhaps I should have said, you or any other ragged holy man," answered the visitor with a smile. "Another would have done as well, and he were that."

"Is it so? Your words do not comport with your errand." Bluntly. "Why, what can you know of our errand—yet?" In surprise.

"You were sent by a certain saddler, a very disreputable lying fellow." The dervish's eyes gleamed challengingly. "A saddler? We know nothing of any saddler. At least, not in this matter."

The speaker's tones were earnest and calculated to carry conviction. The dervish regarded him more closely.

"Deign to do as we ask," the man went on eagerly, "and I promise you will be well treated."

"Who are you? Harun-al-Raschid and his grand vizier come to tempt a poor holy man with the riches and luxuries of the world?" the dervish now demanded lightly.

"We can claim no such distinction." As the foremost of the visitors spoke he exchanged meaningful glances with his companion.

"Most dervishes are half-witted," murmured the latter. "All the better," for our purpose. Sotto voce, from the other. Then to the dervish: "We are but plain citizens of Damascus, Harun-al-Raschid," indulgently, "died many centuries ago. But tell me," abruptly, "are you hungry?"

"Am I?" In spite of himself the dervish's voice was eager. "Why?" "Because I know of a little cafe near, which has a cook worthy of a place at the prophet's right hand; where may be had kawurmeh—such a stew!—cabob roasted on skewers; fish dressed with oil; a boned fowl stuffed with pistachio nuts—"

"Truly it is the caliph of Bagdad," muttered the dervish. "Or a gent, come in human form to torment me."

The other may have divined that famished glint in the holy one's eyes for he went on more unctuously, rolling his words as if he were rolling over delicacies in his mouth:

"Kumafeh, sweetened with sugar or honey—He is very famous for his pastry. It melts on the lips when one has only a small appetite. When one has a large one—"

He drew in his breath and finished his sentence by rolling his eyes. "Then when you have dined to repletion, there is the sun-ripened watermelon, and a certain sweet drink this wonderful cook is renowned for—"

"I think," interrupted the dervish rather hastily, "you have sufficiently enumerated the accomplishments of this very interesting man. And I agree with you he is worthy of a seat at the prophet's right hand. But alas, for me are those delicacies forbidden—unattainable, at present, as the delights of Paradise, itself."

"Not if you go with us." Promptly. "But the price?" "We pay."

"You pay him. How do I pay you?" "Oh, that is a small matter. We'll rather talk about it over the good things to eat."

"I'd rather talk about it before I eat them."

"Here's a very honest fellow, indeed!" And one of the intruders nodded approval to his companion. (To be Continued.)

CONDITIONS IN WEST GOOD SAYS BIG CHICAGO MERCHANT

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Business conditions in the west are good, declared Julius Rosenwald, head of the Sears, Roebuck & Company, today upon his return from a four weeks' trip that took him to Kansas City, Seattle, San Francisco, Portland, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, Dallas and Denver.

"The northwest is feeling particularly prosperous," said Rosenwald, "because of the great crops. San Francisco apparently has not felt any depression and the exposition is going along fine."

UNKNOWN KILLED BY NORTHWESTERN

Body Found Along Track by Railroad Men This Morning; Features Horribly Mutilated

An unknown man, thought by the police to be a resident of either La Crosse or Bangor, was killed last night by a Milwaukee train a short distance east of the Medary station. The body was found by railroad men this morning.

But meager clues were found on the body, one, the name Sam Mosher or Mashek and another, an address "1407 West Third street, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. A ticket from La Crosse to Bangor, bought yesterday, was also found. A portion of a knit blue necktie and a bit of a blue serge suit were picked up by the authorities.

Identification in person was impossible, as the features were terribly mutilated.

ESCAPE DEATH AS AUTO TURNS TURTLE

Thomas Graf and family, Brownsville, yesterday afternoon miraculously escaped serious injury and possible death when their car overturned near Medary on the South Salem road. The top of the car prevented the machine from crushing the occupants.

According to spectators, the car was going south near the Medary crossing. A front tire burst and the machine turned completely over. The automobile was traveling at a moderate rate of speed. The occupants, five in number, escaped with a few scratches. The car, with the exception of the top, was not damaged.

UNREFRESHING SLEEP

The woman who is tired out, who aches all over when she rises in the morning, who feels depressed most of the time, needs just the help that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can give her—new blood and stronger nerves.

The number of disorders that are caused by thin blood is amazing and most women are careless about the condition of their blood. Quickly the nerves are affected and the patient becomes irritable, worries over trifles, does not sleep as well as formerly and is not refreshed by rest. There may or may not be stomach trouble and headache. This is a condition that calls for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the non-alcoholic tonic. Give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial and the first sign of new life will be noticed in your appetite. You will be hungry by meal time. As the blood becomes enriched it feeds and soothes the irritated nerves, sleep becomes sounder and more refreshing, your worries become less, your work lighter. These are some of the things that these tonic pills do. Try them for any trouble caused by thin blood.

The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., will mail free to any woman the booklet "Plain Talks to Women." Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

MEMORIES OF A MIRACLE

In 1861 a man was tapped and got well of Bright's disease, and the books are talking about it yet. (See Tyson on Bright's Disease, 2nd Edn. 1904, p. 155.) We have before us addresses of nine patients, who were tapped two to twenty times each, and recovered; for instance, G. W. Kirkpatrick of 184 Laguna St., San Francisco, from whom 34 lbs of water were taken first tapping; and the young son of A. C. Dean of North Avenue, East Oakland, who was tapped nine times.

The ability of Fulton's Renal Compound to diminish albuminuria in many cases of Bright's Disease is a FACT IN PHYSICS established by thousands of analyses. It does not conflict, but is helped by the treatment commonly prescribed. We never knew a case of Chronic Bright's Disease with dropsy to recover under Digitalis and Basham's Mixture unaided by Fulton's Renal Compound, but we have many reports of recoveries under the Renal Compound unaided. However, heart and eliminative agents help greatly in critical cases.

A SIMPLE WAY TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Prevent Falling Hair and End Itching Scalp.

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid anion from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you value your hair, you should get rid of dandruff at once, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it.

SOCIETY

SURPRISE PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. John Weissmann of 421 South Ninth street, were surprised last night at their home by a number of friends.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. August Yost, Mr. and Mrs. George Albrecht, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Glade, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eisler, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Major, Mr. and Mrs. William Beckman, Charles Senn, John Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Fessler, Miss Irene Albrecht and Miss Margaret Jensen.

Progressive clunch was played in which Mrs. Alex R. Major won first prize for the ladies, and Mrs. August Yost second prize. A. A. Fessler took first men's prize and August Yost second. Refreshments were served.

TO ENTERTAIN

The Young People's society of the Norwegian Lutheran church, corner of Sixth and Division streets, will be entertained tomorrow night by the Misses Minnie Heel, Jeannette Moe and Myrtle Anderson. Members of the Normal school band will furnish music for the evening.

CLOSING OF COUNTRY CLUB

About sixty men paid their respects to the Country club Saturday evening, when the "pancake and sausage" dinner was served. This is the annual closing affair. The main feature of the evening was the Hallo-wen dinner given by Dr. A. A. Maurer to twenty of his friends.

The season was an unusually successful one and great credit is due Mrs. Oeschger, the manager. During the season 1,392 persons were served. There were waffle breakfasts, dinners, luncheons, receptions and dancing parties, all testifying to the popularity of the club. There is now a membership of three hundred, fifty new members being added this year. The club will open May 15, 1915, with Mrs. Oeschger at the head.

PRE-NUPITAL AFFAIR

The Misses Lucile Burke and Matilda Johnson entertained at a pleasant affair Saturday evening at the home of the former, 419 Jackson street, in honor of Miss Christine Beck, one of the coming brides, at a "package shower." The decorations were in the Hallo-wen spirit, yellow being the prevailing color. The guests were the Misses Christine Beck, Louise Seer, Hilda Johnson, Marie Kaveney, Barbara Borlander, Hilda Hanson, Josie Hibbick, Lillie Burke, Mesdames Harold Snyder, John Sten-vor and Alfred Beck.

ENTERTAIN FOR MISS BERG

A number of girls entertained at a farewell party at the La Crosse theater Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Rose Berg, who will leave Monday for St. Paul, where she will make her future home.

After the play the party adjourned to a lunch room where delicious refreshments were served.

Those present were Misses Rose Berg, Alma Wensole, Irene Leyman, Freda Josten, Louise Molzahn, Clara Josten, Alma Scharpf and Julia Noem.

MRS. AUSTIN HAS BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Mollie Austin always has a birthday party on Hallo-wen, which a few of her friends celebrate by a picnic supper. After a motor ride to Viroqua Saturday Mrs. Austin was taken to the home of a friend, where other of the party were assembled. A delicious supper was served. Among those present were Mrs. R. C. Whelpley, Mrs. M. E. Eaton, Mrs. Mary Shadbolt, Mrs. W. R. Sill, Miss Frances Sill and Miss Alice.

TOM THUMB WEDDING

The ladies of the First Baptist church are arranging to give a Tom Thumb wedding entertainment November 13 at the church. Those taking part will be young children from some of the prominent families. Miss Corbett, who will manage the affair, is herself a midget from Kansas City.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

The W. C. T. U. will meet Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. N. A. Matson, 2147 Market street.

Mrs. G. M. Erickson entertained ten tables of five hundred in honor of Mrs. Alfred Johnson of Chicago.

About thirty-five couples attended the first dance of the series given by the Benedicts at Eagle hall Saturday evening. The event was a most enjoyable affair.

Ridicule.

It is an immense blessing to be perfectly callous to ridicule; or, which comes to the same thing, to be conscious thoroughly that what we have in us of noble and delicate is not ridiculous to any but fools, and that, if fools will laugh, wise men will do well to let them.—Doctor Arnold.

ACROBATS HEAD MAJESTIC BILL

Werden and Gearin Here
Again: Juggler Good Entertainer; Midget on Program

Ernest Phutzner and his troupe of comedy acrobats heads the bill at the Majestic for the first half of the week. The troupe is without doubt one of the best that ever showed to a La Crosse audience. Good, wholesome comedy, mingled with the best of acrobatics, makes the act one of the best of the year. The youngster of the company, a lad of six years, astounds the audience by his stunts usually creditable to an adult.

Werden and Gearin, not unknown to La Crosse theater-goers, present a song review. Beautiful slides and pictures illustrate the songs to the best of advantage. The act is one of the best on the bill.

Chiquita, the doll lady, reputed as being the smallest woman in the world, entertains with a number of songs in English and Spanish. The little lady is but 28 inches in height and weighs but 30 pounds, although she is 35 years of age.

Juggling Mathien, a wizard with his arms, presents a highly entertaining and amusing act. His manipulation of cigar boxes, balls and so forth is remarkable.

Whitney's Dancing Dolls, a novelty act, scores one of the hits of the show. The arrangement is clever and the voices good. One of the lady members of the company displays great singing ability in her song, "Dreams of Old Erin."

NONE OF ACCUSED IN COURT

Specific Charge Is Plot to Monopolize Transportation Business of New England

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Probably the largest aggregate number of millionaires ever accused in a single court transaction were indicted in United States district court here today, accused of violating the Sherman anti-trust law. Included in the number are all of the directors of the New Haven railway system who were in charge of the operations of that corporation at the time that it was amalgamated into its system the various transportation systems of New England.

The directors number twenty-one. The specific charge against them is that they combined and conspired to monopolize commerce consisting of transportation business. The indictment enumerates 160 corporations whose business it is charged was monopolized, included in the number are all of the corporations that were welded into the New Haven machine by the late J. P. Morgan and President Charles S. Mellen.

The millionaires indicted are: William Rockefeller, George MacCulloch Miller, Charles F. Brooker, William Skinner, D. Newton Barney, Robert W. Taft, James S. Elton, James S. Hemingway, Lewis Cass Leary, Charles M. Pratt, Heaton Robertson, Frederick S. Brewster, Henry K. McHarg, Edward D. Robbins, Alexander Cochran, John L. Billard, George F. Baker, Thomas Dewitt Cuyler, Theodore N. Vall, Edward Milligan, Francis T. Maxwell.

None in Court

Not a single one of the accused was in court and the only lawyer present was John W. H. Crim, attorney for Charles S. Mellen. Mellen was the chief witness before the grand jury.

The district attorney was directed to notify the accused to appear in court. Some of the defendants were to come into court this afternoon and others at dates to be agreed upon later.

HELFACH FINED FOR SCHWEIZER ASSAULT

Jeweler Pays Ten Dollars and Costs in County Court
This Morning; Schweizer's Statement

In county court this morning William Helfach pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery upon the person of Charles H. Schweizer.

The assault was committed in front of the La Crosse trust company's office, where the two men met Saturday morning. It was the result of a discussion that arose over the rejection of Mr. Helfach's application for membership in the Married Folk's club.

Judge Brindley imposed a fine of $10 and costs.

In his statement to the court Mr. Schweizer related the controversy leading up to the assault. He was one of nine men who, according to Mr. Helfach's recollection, voted against Mr. Helfach's membership in the Married Folk's club. He had incurred the hostility of the latter because he was, with perhaps one exception, the only man who frankly admitted his vote. His vote was not personal, and was cast in the negative because Mr. Helfach was very objectionable to Mr. E. M. Wing, who was already a member. Knowing this objection, Mr. Schweizer had urged Mr. Funke, who was active in Mr. Helfach's behalf, to withdraw his name and avoid the consequences. In the conversation that morning, Mr. Helfach insisted upon an inaccurate statement that Mr. Schweizer had organized the opposition to him, going to the extent of raising a question of veracity, which he immediately followed by a blow.

Value of Goodness.

It is not easy to be good. If it were goodness would be worth very little. It would not mean struggle, persistence, aspiration, development, character, as it does now. Real goodness—efficient, beneficent goodness—is valuable because of what it costs, day by day, and it never comes at a bargain.—Selected.

Lieut. in Co. K, Tomah, Who Enlisted with Howes, Resigns Also Neither Knew of Other's Action

After fifteen years of continuous service in the Wisconsin National guard, Captain W. L. Howes, Tomah, quartermaster of the Third regiment, has announced his resignation.

It was a peculiar coincidence that Lieutenant Wickland, Co. K, Tomah, with whom Mr. Howes enlisted on May 30, 1899, resigned the same day upon which Captain Howes' resignation was tendered. Neither knew the other was quitting.

"I resigned simply because the duties of regimental quartermaster became too heavy," said Captain Howes today. "I liked the work but in the last few years the responsibility has increased tremendously and I did not feel that I could give the work the time it deserved."

Both Captain Howes and Lieutenant Wickland have been officers of the highest type and a letter received by the former from Adjutant General Orlando Holway, indicates the high regard for them by others high in the military affairs of the state.

OLBRICH PREDICTS BIG BLAINE VOTE

Independent Progressive Candidate Will Have Between 110,000 and 150,000 Says Manager

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 2.—Senator Robert M. La Follette closed his speaking campaign for John J. Blaine, non-partisan progressive candidate for governor on Saturday night. The senator did not feel physically able to continue the speaking campaign today, and spent the day in his office directing the windup work for Blaine.

M. B. Olbrich, manager of the Blaine campaign, issued a statement this morning, in which he claimed that Blaine would be elected by a vote of from 110,000 to 150,000. He declared that it would be impossible for two regular reactionary candidates to secure enough progressive votes to elect them.

PARTIAL QUARANTINE OF CHICAGO YARDS

of live cattle, sheep or hogs from the Chicago yards. This supplements an order issued Saturday, prohibiting the shipments of livestock from the Chicago yards, except for immediate slaughter.

Western stock yards at Kansas City, Omaha, South St. Paul and other smaller meat centers were not affected by the order.

Following the order, the price of live hogs at the yards jumped twenty-five cents a hundred over the opening.

The big international livestock show, set for December in Chicago, was called off today.

Following a conference this afternoon, representatives of the big packing houses sent a telegram of protest to Washington, declaring that the quarantine order would throw out of employment nearly 60,000 men employed in stock yard plants, and bring higher meat prices at once. The packers expect to see the quarantine order modified as the result of their protest.

A statement issued under the approval of Thomas P. Wilson, president of Morris & Co., this afternoon, declared that a marked scarcity of meat and consequently higher prices would be felt almost immediately as the result of the quarantine.

"There are now in the stockyards about 21,000 cattle, 35,000 hogs, and 40,000 sheep," said the statement. "This is about enough to run the packing house plants for two days."

"Another serious aspect of the situation is the small amount of meat on hand in the cold storage plants."

The quarantine order caught the packers by surprise. It came at a time when the packers were working three shifts of men day and night, in an effort to catch up with the orders from warring European nations.

It is not expected that the quarantine will last over ten days.

Big Herd Killed

DE KALB, Ill., Nov. 2.—Kane county and the surrounding territory is wrought up over the killing today of a herd of 59 cattle, 30 sheep and 100 hogs, some of which had become infected by the "foot and mouth" disease, on the farm of George Dauberman, at Kanesville, Kane county.

This is the first case reported in which cattle have had to be killed in Illinois.

URGES STRAPPING FOR WAYWARD GIRLS

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 2.—Judge Blenski today recommended an old fashioned "strapping" for girls who dress in long skirts and deceive saloonkeepers into selling them liquor.

Walter DeWerth, proprietor of a roadhouse, was arraigned today on the charge that three girls, aged 16, members of a hayrack party, drank liquor in his saloon. He admitted that he might have served the girls unintentionally.

"If I was the father of these girls," said Judge Blenski, in dismissing the case, "I would give them a good strapping."

VOSE PIANOS

The Vose Company would make the vose better if it could. It could make it cheaper and quickly realize greater profits, because sixty-two years have established the value and set the standard; but the word cheaper is never used as a policy or an argument in the vose factory. Better, stronger, more durable, higher quality, nearer the human singing tone—these are vose ideals. Always better, never cheaper.

vose has bettered and bettered vose

for sixty-two years, and such is the faith and belief in vose principles that the third generation of the vose family believes that the house of vose is yet in its infancy. Such principles as the vose is built upon are lasting beyond the mere days of one or two generations. Investigate the reasons for the present-day vose supremacy.

OFFERS $1,000 OR DEATH FOR GIRL

MARINETTE, Wis., Nov. 2.—Postal and city authorities today were looking for a man who employs "black hand" methods in his love affairs. Mrs. J. Hamernick received the following letter:

"Dear Madam: I have watched your daughter over a year, now I will make you a proposition. I will give you $1,000 for her, a month to decide. Then I will come for an answer. I advise you to take the money, for I will get the girl, money or not, dead or alive. As ever,

"LOVE OR DEATH."

The girl is 18 years old, and according to her mother has had no love affairs.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

If peevish, feverish and sick give "California Syrup of Figs."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

FIRE AT HOME OF S. Y. HYDE

Gas Stove Throws Spark Into Attic; Damage $700; Blaze in Downtown Candy Store

Damage to the amount of $700 was done at 5:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon when a gas heater in the home of S. Y. Hyde, Twelfth and King streets, threw a spark into the attic. Fire department No. 1 was called. A part of the roof of the house was damaged, and water caused damage to furnishings.

A cigaret thrown into a corner behind the desk of the Royal Candy store, Sixth and Main streets, at closing time last night, is thought to have been the cause of a fire which did about $100 damage at 1:15 o'clock this morning.

HOLD MEETING AT THE COUNTY FARM

The W. C. T. U. held their regular service at the county poor farm Sunday afternoon. The meeting was led by B. S. Steadwell and was opened with a song service followed by prayer. Mr. Clark, a purity worker from Ontario, Canada, gave a spirited talk which was much enjoyed by those present. A testimony meeting followed. A goodly number from La Crosse attended the meeting and were cordially welcomed by Superintendent and Mrs. Walker.

In Milwaukee. State chairmen of the democratic and republican parties both claim victory today but used their best vote getters to advantage in districts where their efforts would count the most.

Independents claim big gains for Blaine as the result of Senator La Follette's tour of the state. Meanwhile the district and precinct leaders of all parties are preparing to get out the vote for the big test tomorrow, and the eyes of politicians over the country were turned upon Wisconsin as one of the doubtful states whose election returns will have a bearing on political opinion the country over.

RIDGE TRIP MADE BY DEMOCRATS

St. Joseph's Ridge, Middle Ridge and Newberg's Corners were the scenes Sunday of democratic rallies. John Utermoehl and Attorney A. H. Schubert spoke at Middle Ridge, Joseph Boschert and John F. Doherty addressed an audience at Newberg's Corners, while the largest event of the day was staged at St. Joseph's Ridge, when 150 persons listened to A. H. Schubert, John Utermoehl and Attorney A. C. Wolfe.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is sign you have been eating too much meat

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Chas. A. Beyschlag, druggist, 503 Main St.

U. S. REFUSES TO LET MILITIA PASS

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 2.—After having been refused permission to ride across a narrow stretch of United States soil, where the Canadian Northern railway dips down into Minnesota at Baudette, Minn., the Fort Frances company of soldiers arrived here this morning for mobilization. The refusal of the United States officers to permit them to remain on the train crossing United States soil for a few miles, caused them to travel 800 miles instead of 175. Canadians claim that the soldiers were unarmed and not in uniform, and that in the past members of the first contingent and reservists of all nations have been permitted to cross United States soil.

BONER BY SPLAWN
LOSES FOR YOSTS

Michigan Fullback Misunderstands Play and Misses the Chance to Score; Hughitt Not Blamed

MAULBETSCH STAR OF WOLVERINES

Michigan Half Tears Steadily Through Harvard Defense; Hardwick Scores for the Crimson

BY HAL SHERIDAN
(Written for the United Press.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—A "boner" by Splawn cost Michigan the game with Harvard on Saturday according to the statement of Coach Yost, after the game. Not poor generalship by Hughitt but a "Merikie" by the Wolverines' kicker lost the ball and the game for the Ann Arborites in the first quarter of the game. After the game, the "hurry up" man explained the situation.

On the third down, with only three yards to go for a score, Splawn received the ball and tried Harvard's line that had held three times. Hughitt had called for a forward pass, not a line smash, and while every Harvard man struggled to get through to Splawn, a Michigan forward stood four yards over the Crimson goal line—not more than twelve yards from Splawn, waiting for the throw that was never made. It was the easiest kind of a chance, for Splawn had several seconds in which to throw the ball.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 2.—Harvard's big football team beat Michigan on Saturday, but had to go some to do it. The score was 7 to 0, and Michigan was so close to a touchdown on two separate occasions that Mr. Haughton must have been shaking in his boots. In the first period a steady march down the field by the Wolverines was stopped four yards from Harvard's goal, and in the third quarter the Wolverines got within six yards of a score.

Harvard's touchdown came in the second quarter, and was made possible by a prettily executed forward pass which netted twelve yards. It was turned loose at a time when Michigan seemed certain to hold the Crimson for downs, and it gave Harvard its first down on the eighteen yard line. From that point Francke and Hardwick plunged through irresistibly and Hardwick made the only score of the game.

One thing Harvard will have to admit is that Maulbetsch outshone any two men in the Crimson outfit, and proved himself a plunging half back of the type highly prized in the east. Maulbetsch probably gained as much ground by rushing as the entire Harvard backfield, but he was stopped in the shadow of Harvard's goal in the first quarter.

In the first quarter, when Michigan had the ball on Harvard's four yard line on the fourth down, Hughitt called for a double pass on a wide end run. The Crimson saw the play and thus got out of its first tight hole.

Maulbetsch was the offensive hero for the Wolverines. Hardwick and Francke did most of Harvard's gaining. The crowd was estimated at 28,000 and Michigan more than held up its end in the cheering.

The line-up:
Harvard—T. J. Coolidge, lg; Parsons, lt; Withington, lg; Wallace, Bigelow, c; Weston, rg; Trumbull, rt; Smith, C. Coolidge, re; Logan, qb; Bradlee, lb; Hardwick, rbb; Francke, fb.

Michigan—Staatz, re; Cochran, rt; Watson, Rehner, rg; Raynsford, c; McHale, Quail, lg; Reiman, lt; Benton, Dunne, lb; Hughitt, qb; Lyons, rbb; Maulbetsch, lb; Splawn, fb.

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

WINONA SCORES ON DRCP KICK

In Fourth Period La Crosse Is Twice Near Goal but Fails Each Time

La Crosse emerged victorious from the Winona game last Saturday with a score of 7 to 3, the fifth time this season that the local high school has tasted victory. The game was a hard fought battle on both sides. During the first part of the first period things seemed to be going in favor of the Winonans, who made gain after gain. La Crosse got the ball on downs, however, and pushed it down the field again. The best part of the quarter was spent in scrimmaging, first one side having the ball and then the other.

Near the end of the period La Crosse rushed the pigskin to the Winona ten yard line. Kulcynski was laid out just at this stage of the

Swennes Gets Marble
Myron Swennes now has possession of the high school football team's "good luck marble." This marble was found by Mr. Horne on the day of the Lanesboro game. On the way over to the gridiron with the team he picked it up, and told the team that whoever got the first touchdown in each game should keep the marble until the next game. The marble has been in possession four men besides Swennes so far this season. Alex Feinberg got it in the Lanesboro game, Louis Kulcynski in the Tomah game, John Fay in the Eau Claire game, and Walter Regel in the Grand Rapids game. The one who gets the first touchdown of the last game will have the marble to keep until next year.

game by a kick in the abdomen and had to be replaced by Swennes. A few moments were spent in scrimmaging, and then Swennes carried the ball the last six yards over the line, scoring the only touchdown of the game.

Cheer Goal Kick
The cheering from the La Crosse side of the field was terrific as Regel added a point by kicking goal.

La Crosse kicked off to Winona again. None of Winona's team touched the ball until it was behind the goal posts, and it was declared a touchback. The ball was put into play on Winona's twenty yard line. A short scrimmage followed and the whistle ended the period with the ball on the twenty-five yard line.

Start With Rush
Winona began the second quarter with a rush, carrying the ball thirty yards on the kickoff before being downed. The ball saw-sawed from one side to the other during the rest of the quarter, neither team being able to push it over the line. Grausnik, Winona's fullback, made a sensational run of thirty yards and nearly scored a touchdown, on an end run, placing the ball on the La Crosse twenty-five yard line. The opponents were unable to advance the ball farther, however, as the La Crosse line held like a stone wall.

Taking the ball on downs, La Crosse advanced it twenty yards. Regel carried it twenty yards farther on a line plunge play. In the play a Winona man was hurt and time was taken out. When the whistle again blew La Crosse seemed to have lost their "pep," and the quarter ended before they could make a touchdown.

Drop Kick from Winona
Winona scored her only points in the third quarter by a drop kick by Stirneman from the forty yard line. It was now Winona's turn to go into a frenzy of cheering and the police had difficulty in keeping the crowd from the field. Neither side seemed to have much advantage for the rest of the period. The ball moved back and forth across the field from one team to the other. Zeisler made a thirty-five yard run with a caught punt but no score resulted and the quarter ended with Winona in possession of the ball on a fumble.

Twice Near Goal
Kulcynski returned to the game in the last quarter and Spettie was replaced by Kelly. La Crosse seemed to have a little the best of Winona during the quarter, but was unable to get a touchdown, although twice the ball was on the Winona ten yard line. Regel made two runs for fifteen yards during the period. Near the end of the game Gibson was sent in place of Hackner. The game was called with the ball in the center of the field.

During the whole game La Crosse seemed unable to pull off any of the forward passes which heretofore this season have baffled her opponents. La Crosse men tackled poorly also.

The lineup follows:
La Crosse—Captain Fay, c; Hackner, Gibson, lg; Blatter, lt; Bruha, lb; Barney, rg; Endres, rt; Kulcynski, rbb; Maulbetsch, lb; Splawn, fb.

GRAY OUT OF GAME

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Maroon rooters feared today that Dolly Gray, crack halfback, will be out of the game for the rest of the season because of injuries he received in the Wisconsin game Saturday. It was conceded that with Gray out of the line-up Chicago would have considerable difficulty winning its games with Illinois and Minnesota, victories necessary to a claim on the western title.

BIG GAME RESULTS
IN SCORELESS TIE

Wisconsin-Chicago Game at Madison, Homecoming Event, Ends with the Score Nothing All

KEELER AND STAVRUM STAR

La Crosse Men Contribute Much Towards Holding the Confident Staggs Men; Dope Upset

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 2.—Battling bitterly like zealous in one of the fiercest battles ever seen on conference gridiron, Wisconsin's Badgers held Chicago's Maroons to a scoreless tie at Camp Randall on Saturday afternoon. The game was a terrific struggle between two teams that were apparently as evenly matched as any pair of elevens could be.

Pete Russell displayed his much heralded ability as an open field runner and his stellar work was eclipsed by Bellows. Captain Keeler of the Badgers showed a great fondness for blocking the aerial messages of Russell, and "Shorty" Des Jardien smothered play after play by the Cardinals.

Big Arlie Mucks found a rival for honors in line work when Jackson cut loose with three or four performances worthy of an all-American tackle. The sunny-haired Marooner's antics cost him his shirt.

If there hadn't been such a lot of intercepted forward passes and if

Schafer had put that drop kick over the bar, and if the Cardinals hadn't lost fifteen yards when they were thirty-five yards from victory, there would have been a different story.

An inconsiderate Badger walked on Dolly Gray's toe with such force the star half retired in disgust to the bench, being replaced by Coutchie. Berger was the logical man for the place, but he evidently did not want to play against his former alma mater.

Badgers are Aggressive
The first half was a bitter fight, in which the Badgers had a slight advantage. Early in the first period the Maroons walked up to the Wisconsin five-yard line and there stopped, because eleven young men refused to let them go any farther. The loss of Gray early in the clash was hard on Staggs' men, although Coutchie fought hard.

One department of the game in which the Maroons were outclassed was the punting end. Russell was forced to run back three times in order to get Bellows' kicks. There was little choice in the early work of the front walls.

The last period was a duel between the rival quarter backs. By a coincidence, both Bellows and Pete wore the No. 5, which must carry some magic power, for the two pilots kept the crowd wild with their sensational work.

Luck Aids Staggs
Things looked pretty black for the Maroons when Schafer was downed five yards in front of his own goal, but some quick thinking and a lot of luck took the Maroons out of danger. From the center of the lot they went to within kicking distance of the Wisconsin goal, but failed to score because Schafer's toe suddenly lost its sense of direction.

In a game that was so crowded with thrills it is hard to pick any one man as a star. The Wisconsin ends were superior to the Maroon wings, but favorites cannot be picked out of a crowd like Albert, Buck, Stegeman, Keeler and McMaster.

Day is Warm
The day was a little warm for football, but swelled the gate receipts, over 15,000 persons attending the struggle. The Maroon rooters arrived a little after noon, and stopped on their way to the field to cheer the team at its quarters in the Park Hotel.

The line-up:
Wisconsin (0)—Stavrum, lg; Buck, lt; Mucks, lg; Kennedy, c; McMaster, rg; Keeler, rt; Kelley, re; Bellows, qb; Cummings, lb; Smith, rbb; Kreuz, fb.

Chicago (0)—Sparks, re; Jackson, rt; White, rg; Des Jardien, c; Stegeman, lg; Shull, lt; Huntington, lb; Russell, lg; Schafer, rbb; Gray, lb; Flood, fb.

The Lyre is a Very Timid Bird.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Dollar Mark Tail of the Lyre Bird.

"I HAVE told you about the vanity of the peacock, haven't I, kiddies?" asked daddy as the children snuggled down beside him and the fire leaped and flamed in the big open fireplace.

"Yes, daddy," said the children.

"Well, I'll tell you tonight about the lyre bird, and the peacock is not more vain than the male lyre bird with the tail that sometimes gets its feathers crossed, and then it looks like a dollar mark walking around.

"The lyre bird does not live in this country, but there is a small family of them in New South Wales.

"It is a very timid bird, however, and as the people begin to go where he is he goes away so they can't catch him. They say it is hard to get even with a gunshot distance of him.

"And he builds the queerest nest you ever heard of. His tail is of a very peculiar shape, and so, of course, he must have a nest to fit it or else it would be all disarranged when he is sleeping.

"So he builds his nest in the shape of a dome, and he is able in that way to keep his wonderful tail erect while he sleeps.

"In addition to his beautiful tail, the lyre bird can sing. His song isn't always musical, but sometimes the harsh notes he utters as he struts around displaying his tail, of which he is very proud, change into quite a fine song.

"So, you see, the lyre bird really has more to be proud of than the peacock.

"But I'm afraid that Mr. Lyre Bird isn't a very good husband because Mrs. Lyre Bird is a very downtrodden looking lady, and she hasn't anything like as pretty tail feathers as her proud husband.

"And unless I am very much mistaken Mrs. Lyre Bird does the most of the work about the building of the nests. I may be mistaken, of course, but why else would she look so downhearted?

"The lyre birds can't fly very well on account of their tails, so the way they outwit their enemies is by running away very swiftly.

"So their nests are built upon the ground instead of in the limbs of trees, and they are woven of sticks and plant stems.

"They are called lyre birds because their tails when they are not matted up to look like a dollar mark resemble the musical instrument upon which the Greek god Apollo is always pictured as playing.

"Tell us about Apollo, daddy," cried the children.

"That will be another story, kiddies."

"Good night, daddy."

slightly to adapt it for this column; but not enough to alter the message.

The author has condensed, evaporated and compressed into tablet form the tenets of a comparatively new philosophy and of a comparatively new religion. Read carefully and studiously until you have grasped the hope of the great social and educational movement for "life more abundant."

"Knowledge is waste unless knowledge saves. Humanity is the measure of scientific discovery. Unless the many learn, the few teach in vain."

"The tax of death laid on babies can be commuted by care and knowledge. The death of the old is inevitable and in the course of nature. The death of babies is social murder and in the course and carelessness of man. Educate the mother and the baby will have life more abundantly. Given perfect conditions, or at least as perfect as our known knowledge now permits, and not one baby in a hundred would die, as a baby. Years later, age would end. Now, babyhood slays. Leave conditions as they are and twenty or twenty-five out of a hundred babies die.

"The fight for babies is in most cities the fight for a quarter of those born. No one can win this fight but the mother. Add to her love, knowledge; and to her knowledge, instruction; and to instruction, practice; and a place in a mother's arms would be the safest of all refuges. Today society slays one in four babies in their mothers' arms. It is the most unsafe refuge known. No other part of society dies as much as babies.

"Think what it means—if you can bear the poignant pang of this discovery—to find out that mothers by the ten thousand know that their babies need not die, know that somewhere there are men who know what would save their babies, and yet know no place where they can get this precious knowledge. This buckler and shield against the darts of death, aimed at the babies in their arms."

IN FIVE MINUTES NO SICK STOMACH, INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" is the quickest and surest Stomach relief.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can surely get relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why it relieves sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach misery and indigestion in five minutes.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

WATERCRESS

By ROSE WALLACE

(Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Winona sat on the edge of a stream shivering salt over crisp green branches of watercress the first time George Madison saw her.

He had come there to paint and to get away from his sister's many chattering girl friends, who seemed always to be occupying porch and lawn and pergola at home.

He was trying to get his picture in his vision, and was squinting and otherwise distorting his face when he saw her drop into his canvas, as it were. He was making bits of scenery to frame for a frieze in his study, and he would not in the least have minded having the girl in the picture if he could be sure he would come again and again until he had finished. But to have her settle herself down for the time being—perhaps never to return again for a sitting—was rather disconcerting to the artist. From his distance he could not tell whether or not she were pretty. She seemed merely to be a girl who was there for the purpose of gathering watercress from the edge of the stream.

Somehow or other, as young Madison began to sketch in the contour of the landscape and to work in bits here and there, the girl seemed a necessary touch, and he let her take her place on his canvas almost without meaning to.

"If I don't like it tomorrow," he assured himself, "I'll obliterate her."

By the time the light was no longer desirable and the girl had gone the artist began to wish he might expect to find his model there on the following day.

A pouring rain prevented the artist from going to paint on the next day, but bright and early on the third morning he wended his way to the hilltop with palette and easel and all necessary paraphernalia.

He had hardly begun to mix his colors when the same girl in the same dress and with the same salt-shaker in her hand took her seat on the edge of the stream and began to pick and eat watercress. George Madison laughed to himself. It was almost weird to think that she should have returned, and he was sure she had not seen him. Therefore he could not account for her presence. He worked fast and his pictures grew wonderfully under his enthusiastic touch. And, as before, the girl finished her apparently satisfying meal and betook herself off by way of the winding creek path. After that the artist did not paint with such enthusiasm.

"If she's there again I'll say she's nutty," he said inelegantly to himself as he folded his easel.

But she was there, and she consumed quantities of watercress and hummed and seemed content to be alive. The artist began to be very curious about her. If she had been picking the watercress and carrying it home in a basket it would not have seemed so odd, but to come there day after day and consume such quantities of it was certainly the act of an eccentric person.

He began to wish she would notice him, and yet he could not move nearer and get the same picture on his canvas. He believed as he looked at his nearly completed picture that it was the best thing he had done yet, and the girl in her colorful frock and golden masses of hair sitting gracefully on the edge of the stream was not the least of it. He flattered himself that it was not unlike a Heiner, though he had been true to the gold of the girl's own hair instead of trying to get the Titian red of the famous artist's girl's tresses.

There was hardly an excuse left for the young man to go again to paint on his canvas—it was finished. But he could not resist the desire to seek his place again and see if perhaps something might not draw the girl's attention away from the stream.

When he arrived he looked down and there, complacently munching the fresh grass at the stream's edge, stood an old cow. The girl stood nearby, evidently afraid to sit down. She looked about her as if for help and her eye fell on George Madison well up on the hillside beyond.

As if she had summoned him, he ran down the bank and picked up a stick. "Shall I chase her away?" he asked.

Winona smiled gratefully. "Oh—I wish you would," she said.

The cow moved on with a little persuasion and the artist assured Winona that she was perfectly harmless.

"Nevertheless, I wouldn't have the courage to sit down peacefully while a cow stood near me," the girl admitted. "And I must have watercress."

"Are you—do you like it so much?" George asked.

"It's a cure," the girl said.

"A cure?" the man asked, still more mystified. Had he painted the picture of a lunatic, he wondered, a girl who could be slightly demented? He never had heard of watercress being a cure for anything.

"Yes—it is a French cure for bronchial or pulmonary weakness, and I was not sure that I had not one of them, so I am taking the precaution of not letting anything get a hold on me. I must have health," she declared earnestly.

"You look as if you enjoyed it—now," the artist could not help saying as his eyes dwelt on the wonderful fairness of her skin.

"I am perfectly well now, I think," the girl went on, "but it is due, I am sure, to the fact that I

FALL FERTILIZERS FOR LAW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—To stimulate the growth of a lawn and to improve its appearance for the following spring, no better treatment can be recommended than the application of properly rotted manure in the late fall, according to the United States department of agriculture's specialist. This application should not be made until after the frosts have stopped the growth of the grass. Ten to twenty two-horse loads should be applied to the acre, according as the soil is more or less rich.

It is most important that the manure should be thoroughly rotted before application so that all weed seeds are killed; otherwise damage done by weeds will more than offset the fertilizing value of the application.

Plant Improvement.

In the case of many species of plants, as wheat, flax, carnations and sugar beets, scientific breeders have already devised effective plans for ferreting out individuals with rare breeding ability along desired lines, and for thus creating new types or improving existing forms by using the subtle forces of heredity.

have diligently followed the advice of this old French physician whom I met in Normandy. I have eaten watercress to the exclusion of everything else, and in order to have it fresh and to be out of doors as much as possible, I have come here for it every day and made my meals of it. I live only a mile from the stream," she added.

"And—does it satisfy you?" George asked with wonder.

"Perfectly; as long as I do not see the family at home sitting down to tempting meals of other things. That's another reason why I come here to have solitary feasts of this."

"And another reason I think—is Fate," the young artist dared to say.

What the girl thought of his remark she did not betray, but George Madison knew that it was Fate, nevertheless, that had sent Winona across his path. And so it proved to be.

Record Swims.

Capt. Alfred Browne, commodore of the Flushing Bay division of the American Life-Saving society, swam from the battery to Sandy Hook 22 miles, in 13 hours and 38 minutes. This was done on August 28, 1913. On September 14 Samuel Richards of Boston swam the same distance in 8 hours and 12 minutes. Many previous attempts had been made, but proved to be failures on account of the strength of the tides.—New York Times.

Appetite Follows Good Digestion

Nearly everyone indulges their appetite and the digestive organs are abused, resulting in a congestion of poisonous waste that clogs the bowels and causes much misery and distress.

The most effective remedy to correct this condition is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a natural, pleasant-tasting remedy, gentle yet positive in action, and quickly relieves indigestion, constipation, sick headache, belching, etc. Drug stores sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, and in thousands of homes it is the indispensable family remedy. For a free trial bottle write Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 451 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

Mr. Philipp says, "I am a business man."

What is his business?

It is the rental of private cars.

What are private cars?

1. They are the tank cars which gave Standard Oil Company monopoly of the oil business.

2. The private refrigerator car gave the meat packers control of the fruit business of America.

The private car business prospers when the railroads extend favors in service. It dies if favor in service is withheld.

The railroad commission of Wisconsin has three members: Mr. Harlow, Mr. Roemer and Mr. Erickson. Mr. Harlow's term expires February, 1915. Mr. Roemer has announced his intentions to resign. Mr. Erickson is to enter the United States service.

The governor you elect on Tuesday, Nov. 3, will appoint their successors for terms of ten years.

Will Mr. Philipp appoint members unfriendly to the railroads upon whose favor his business lives or dies?

Do you want to shoulder the railroad yoke against which Wisconsin fought for twenty years to make us free?

The control of the railroad commission in Wisconsin is worth millions to the railroads, and it would be better that the commission be swept into the sea than to legalize for the railroads the control of themselves by themselves.

Mr. Shipper, Mr. Consumer, Mr. Taxpayer, Mr. Voter, under these circumstances are you going to permit Mr. Philipp to become governor of the state of Wisconsin, or

Will you vote and work for John C. Karel for governor who is pledged to appoint members on that commission who will protect the interests of the whole people?

Will Wisconsin surrender?

NORMAL BURIES SUPERIOR TEAM

By a Count of 40 to 0, Carter's Men Advance One Game Nearer the State Normal Championship

ART STRUM STAR OF THE GAME

La Crosse Quarter Plays with One Hand in Splints; Byers and Wachter Play Stellar Game

Before the largest crowd of the year, Capt. Sorgel, Art Strum and company on Saturday afforded one of the best exhibitions of football ever seen in La Crosse. Superior Normal was the goat, the northerners emerging from the game at the round end of a 40 to 0 count.

From the blow of the referee's whistle until Byers scored the fifth and last touchdown of the game, Carter's men played Superior off their feet. Never was the La Crosse goal threatened. Play was in Superior territory for the greater part of the game.

In the matter of punting, Strum and Byers excelled the Superior booters. Kicks for forty and fifty yards were not uncommon. In the line Tobey, Byers, Wachter and Dickens played a star game. The tackling of Byers and Dickens was deadly while the plunging of Wachter and Byers brought the crowd to its feet in more than one case.

Art Strum Stars

At quarter, Strum played the game of his life. The big man played with his left hand in splints, the result of the Stevens Point two weeks ago. Time and again he carried the ball for gains of fifteen and twenty yards. At the beginning of the third quarter, he reeled off a run around right end for 24 yards. He alone gained 96 yards during the three quarters of the game that he played. On several occasions he returned punts and kickoffs for from ten to twenty yards.

The manner in which he ran the team was wonderful. His policy of "Follow Me" worked out to perfection and the big back seldom failed to take his mates down the field. La Crosse gained 393 yards on scrimmage as against 50 yards made by Superior. Approximately one-fourth of the yardage was made by Strum.

Oliver scored the first touchdown in less than six minutes of play. Wachter kicked off and on the second scrimmage Tobey recovered a fumble. Strum gained 15 yards, Sorgel 10, Oliver 6, Immell 3 and Oliver 2. La Fromboise kicked goal.

Wachter scored the second touchdown near the end of the quarter on a series of line plunges and a pass of 35 yards from Strum to Byers. With the ball on the 19 yard line, Strum called for plunges which carried Wachter across the line for the second count. Wachter dropped the kickoff.

Pass Nets Touchdown

A pass of 17 yards, Strum to Byers, resulted in the third touchdown of the game in the middle of the second quarter. La Fromboise kicked goal. The half ended with the score 20 to 0 in favor of La Crosse.

Strum's toe at the start of the third period sent the ball squarely between the posts. The kick was executed from the 35 yard line.

Strum retired in the middle of the period and was succeeded by Byers. Lewis took Byers' place at right end. Soon afterwards, Immell crossed the line on a pretty pass from Byers, La Fromboise kicked goal.

Captain Sorgel was hurt towards the close of the period and was succeeded by Lewis. Bull went in at right end. Right Half Stone of Superior was taken from the game with the ligaments of his right leg torn badly. Snyder succeeded him.

Strum Boots Another

An exchange of punts and a series of plunges brought the ball to the Superior 35 yard line in the fourth period, when Wachter attempted a place kick, Byers holding the ball. The kick went wide. In the middle of the quarter, Strum went in again at quarter and sent another dropkick squarely between the bars. On the kickoff, Strum returned the ball fifteen yards. After gaining fifty yards, Byers went over the line with a pass from Strum. La Fromboise kicked goal. Lewis returned the next kickoff fifteen yards and on a punt, Dickens recovered the ball on a fumble. The quarter ended with the score, La Crosse 40, Superior 0.

The score by quarters:

La Crosse . . . 13 7 10 10—40

The lineup:

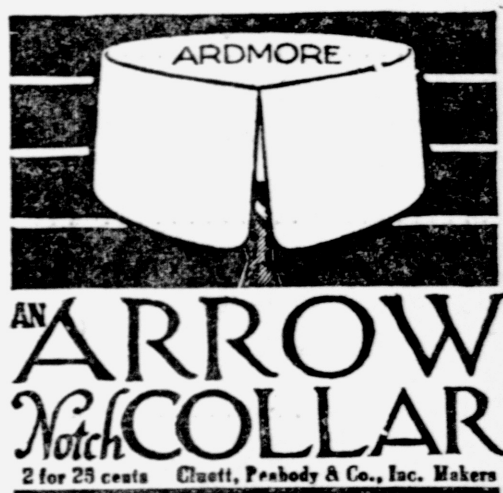

La Crosse—Le, Erickson; It, Wachter; Ig, Marcou; c, Tobey; rg, La Fromboise; rt, Dickens; re, Byers, Lewis, Bull, Byers, Bull; qb, Strum, Byers, Strum, Byers; lb, Oliver; rlb, Sorgel, Lewis; fb, Immell.

Superior—Le, Blomberg; It, Johnson (captain); Omernik; c, Roberts; rg, Hinterberg; rt, Williams; re, Olson; qb, Pickering; lb, Butler; rlb, Russell, Stone, Snyder; fb, Bisehoff, Stone, Bisehoff.

Summary: Touchdowns—Byers, 2; Oliver, Wachter, Immell; goals from touchdowns, La Fromboise, 4; field goals, Strum, 2. Referee—Pettijohn, Minnesota; umpire, Spence, Wisconsin; head linesman, Radford, Iowa; time of quarters, 15 minutes.

HALLOWE'EN SEES LITTLE MISCHIEF

Night-raiders' Pranks in Sparta Do Small Damage; Many Parties Given

SPARTA, Wis., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Hallowe'en was appropriately observed Saturday night in Sparta by both old and young. Although the property which was destroyed by the night raiders amounted to practically nothing the spirit was lively and was manifested in various other ways, through shadow parties, socials and other parties.

A few misplaced wagons, buggies and some other movable articles including a section of furnace pipe encircling a telephone pole constituted the damage done.

Leo Evenson is ill.

Miss Bertha Jones spent the week end at her home in Sparta.

Douglas Woodworth, substitute mail carrier, left for Chicago this morning.

Richard Mann, who has been away for several weeks, has returned to Sparta.

Fred Enckhausen spent Sunday at his parent's home on Court street.

Messrs. Taylor, Graf, Spencer,

Vieth and Baldwin made a trip to Norwalk yesterday.

Miss Ruth Enckhausen who attends La Crosse Normal spent Friday with her parents, returning to the Normal on Saturday for the latter part of the teachers' convention which was held there last week.

G. W. Garlock of West Salem was in Sparta yesterday.

The Misses Edith C. Pryor and Ethel Schlabach of Cashton spent Sunday evening in Sparta.

YALE AVENGED BY COLGATE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 2.—Highly elated over the sweet revenge on Colgate Saturday and cheered by the fact that not one man was injured, Coach Hinkley planned to drive his charges hard today. It seemed certain today that White would stay at center and that Stillman would be a fixture at right end. Captain Talbot probably will be shifted to left tackle tomorrow.

NOTICE OF GENERAL ELECTION

OFFICE OF COUNTY CLERK,
La Crosse, Wis., October 21, 1914.

To the Electors of La Crosse County:

Notice is hereby given that a general election is to be held in the several towns, wards and villages in the county of La Crosse, on the 3rd day of November, 1914, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to this office, are given below the title of the office and above the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper position, and the questions submitted to a vote are stated below.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters:

The Coupon Ballot, as provided for in Chapter 545, Laws of 1909, and acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, having been formally adopted by the county board of this county, as authorized by law, will be used at said general election.

The Democratic sheet of the ballot will be red in color, the Prohibition sheet will be pink, the Republican sheet will be green, the Social Democratic sheet will be blue, the Individual sheet will be white.

The colored or party sheets of the ballot will be "rotated," so that each party sheet will appear on the top or face of the ballot in an equal number of ballots.

The voter upon entering the polling place, will be given one full and complete Coupon Ballot, containing all of the party sheets stapled together at the top, one Official Ballot Folder and one Remainder Envelope. Upon receiving his ballot the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment, and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of preparing his ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for.

If the voter wishes to vote for all the candidates nominated by any party, he may detach such party sheet from the ballot and place it into the Official Ballot Folder, and place all the remaining sheets and parts of sheets into the Remainder Envelope.

If the voter shall place other names on coupons torn from other sheets of the ballot, into the Official Ballot Folder, in any manner, with a party sheet, such other names or names on such other coupons will be counted for the names they bear, even if the voter has neglected to remove from the whole party sheet the names he did not wish, of the same number, for the same office.

The voter must not write on his ballot or mark it in any MANNER that will identify it.

The voter must close both the Official Ballot Folder, containing his choice, and the Remainder Envelope, containing all that part of the ballot not in the Official Ballot Folder, in the booth, so that no one can see how he prepared his ballot.

The following instructions are printed on the inside of the Official Ballot Folder:

"The voter must enclose in this folder the coupon of every candidate he wishes to elect. A whole party sheet placed in this folder votes a straight ticket. Other coupons found with a whole sheet will be counted as much eased for inspection as the coupons will be held in place when the folder is opened."

If the voter wishes to vote for any person, for any office, whose name is not on the Coupon Ballot, he may do so in writing, which must be entirely separate from the Coupon Ballot, or its envelope or Official Ballot Folder, in such a manner that such written vote or ballot shall in no way identify such voter's Coupon Ballot. The ballot clerk will furnish a blank for such purpose of writing and voting for names not on the Coupon Ballot on request.

A voter may vote upon a question submitted to a vote of the people by marking a cross (X) or mark in the square at the right of the answer which he intends to give. Such questions so submitted will be printed upon a separate ballot for questions only.

A voter who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to prepare his ballot, can have assistance of one or two election officers in preparing same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion as to such person's disability.

The party designations and candidates for the different offices are, for example, as follows:

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS—Put the coupons bearing the names of those you wish to elect into the blue official ballot folder. A whole party sheet placed in blue folder votes a straight ticket. Other coupons found with a whole sheet will be counted instead of the coupons of the same number on the whole sheet. Put all the remainder of the ballot into the Remainder Envelope. Do not mark with pencil. Close both envelopes in the booth.

England and Ireland.

Erin-go-Bragh means "Ireland for ever." The Royal Standard was adopted January 1, 1801, on the union of Ireland with Great Britain. The quarters were representative of the three countries: England, three couch lions on a red background in the first and fourth quarters; Scotland, a rampant lion in the second quarter; and Ireland, a golden harp on a green background, in the third quarter. The lion of Scotland was taken from the coat of arms of James VI.

ITALY RAPIDLY PREPARING FOR ENTERING FIGHT

Editor Returning to U. S. Today Says She Now Has 750,000 Men Ready for Field

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The war spirit is spreading fast in Italy and the government is straining every effort to prepare for hostilities.

This was the information brought to America today by Ettore Patrizi, editor of the San Francisco "L'Italia" who has returned from a prolonged stay in his native country.

"When I was in Milan," said Patrizi, "a military commission was purchasing mules, horses and automobiles and paying war prices for them. They did not stop to bargain, but bought right and left without regard to price. At the commencement of the war Italy had not more than 100,000 troops ready. Now she has at least 750,000, fully equipped and ready to take the field at any moment."

At the same time Patrizi declared that the Italian government was straining every effort to preserve neutrality.

"All Italy is enthusiastically in favor of the allies," said Patrizi. "The king is standing firmly for neutrality, but it is known that his sympathies are with England in spite of a warm personal friendship with the Kaiser."

While in Italy Patrizi met Guglielmo Ferrero, the historian, and Marconi. Both declared that the allies would win.

ARREST BUSINESS MAN AS SLAVER

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Julius Heilner, president of the Princess Corset company today will be taken to Chicago to face a charge of violating the Mann white slave act. He was arrested yesterday in his office by agents of the department of justice.

Heilner is alleged to have induced 17 year old Florence Giddens of Chicago to accompany him on a trip to St. Louis. The trip, it is said, took place last summer.

Heilner manifested no surprise when arrested. He intimated that he would bring blackmail charges against a man and woman in Chicago.

BRITISH CRUISER HERMES IS SUNK BY A SUBMARINE

Destroyed in Straits of Dover with 44 of Crew and Passengers War Office Admits

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The British war office Saturday evening admitted that the light cruiser Hermes had been sunk in the Straits of Dover by a German submarine. The cruiser, of an old model, was on patrol duty. Forty-four officers and men were reported drowned, and forty are said to have been saved. The admiralty made no statement concerning the loss of life, however.

U-9 in Distress? Mystery surrounds the noted submarine U-9 which has left a trail of sunken British warships in its wake. One report from Amsterdam says that it is floating in a disabled condition fifteen miles off the coast of having snapped its propeller by getting it entangled in a fishing net. Another declares that it was caught in a net placed by a trawler, but that it was able to proceed toward its home port.

ASK U. S. TO SAVE FACTORIES ABROAD

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Huge refineries owned by the Union Sulphur company of New York, and situated like fortresses at Marseilles and Certe, France, are in danger of French seizure and destruction, the state department was told today. A representative of the concern has asked that these plants, worth over $2,000,000, be protected.

The company is an American one and did not branch out abroad until 1908, when the Marseilles and Certe plants were erected. Two Germans were in charge. At the outbreak of the war, they fled to their own country, but their previous direction of the works gave rise to French suspicion that the concern was German.

Careless.

A will has been filed in the registry of probate court at Portland which, to say the least, is very extraordinary, in so much as the last clause contains the following: "And may the curse of God rest on any person who seeks this my last will and testament." Although this is said to be the exact wording of the clause, without doubt the testator meant to insert the words "to break" after the word "seeks."

BABY KILLS MOTHER

CRESTON, Ohio, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Riley Grunder, 39, wife of a rural mail carrier, is dead today from a bullet fired by her four year old son George. The child was playing with a loaded rifle.

One of the long-distance rides who attended the recent motorcycle show at Chicago was Mr. Becket, of New Orleans, La., who rode his motorcycle to the Windy city.

BETTER BABIES

The crusade for better babies has spread from coast to coast, and taken firm hold of American Mothers. Few women realize how much the ill health of the mother influences the unborn child, both physically and mentally. Women who suffer from mysterious pains, backache, nervousness, mental depression, headaches, etc., should rely on Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, which for nearly forty years has been the standard remedy for these ailments.

GERMANY SHORT ON HER POTATO CROP

Shortage of "Spuds" May Be One of Determining Factors in Ending the War

BERLIN, Oct. 16. (By Mail to New York.)—Should the European war continue indefinitely, Germany's ability to keep up the fight will be largely a question of "spuds." The Fatherland has not enough potatoes on hand to permit a protracted war. Statistics just gathered by the commissary department of the army place this year's crop at 500,000,000 bushels, somewhat less than last year's yield. Of this amount sixty million bushels have been set aside for seed, another fifty million is imperative for commercial uses, forty-five million bushels must be counted upon as spoiling, while 169,000,000 bushels must be used as food for animals. This leaves only 130,000,000 bushels for food. This amount has never sufficed in the past and it has always been necessary to import heavily.

This must be an awfully tiresome world for the man who knows it all.

AUTO STALLS ON TRACK—THREE DIE

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Miss Geraldine Johnson of Washington, D. C.; Dr. Gerald West, 52, and Mrs. James E. West, mother of Dr. West, were instantly killed, and Dr. Wm. West was perhaps fatally injured when the engine of the automobile in which they were riding stalled directly across the railroad track in West Haverstraw, in front of an approaching train.

Four hundred and seven miles in thirteen hours is the time made by M. D. Cooper, of Cleveland, Ohio, on a recent motorcycle trip to Wellsboro, Pa.

A VOTE FOR PHILIPP IS A VOTE FOR KAREL

Will you have, for governor, John J. Blaine, or John C. Karel?

Emanuel Philipp IS OUT OF THE RACE.

The writer has just returned from a trip through Madison, Milwaukee and other cities. By every test of strength, through the emanations of every political headquarters, from the lips of every unbiased election expert, the message is EMPHATIC that PHILIPP IS BEATEN.

The chairman of the democratic state central committee, Karel's committee, has officially announced that

"PHILIPP IS OUT OF THE RACE.  WE ARE PAYING NO MORE ATTENTION TO PHILIPP."

Karel has quit fighting Philipp; he is fighting BLAINE. The race is between BLAINE and KAREL.

It is common gossip that the stalwart republican business crowd in Milwaukee, who were supporting Philipp, have sent word to the stalwarts over the state to DROP PHILIPP and vote for KAREL.

The answer is for all who do not want Karel elected to DROP PHILIPP and vote for BLAINE.

Blaine is a splendid type. He has had a good schooling in experience. He is "RIGHT." His Scotch father gave him rugged fighting qualities; his Norwegian mother gave him the spirit of the Vikings and the mobility of thought and quickness of grasp that characterize the Scandinavian people. The two, welded in Americanism, gave him the American initiative, independence and resource. He's the "RIGHT KIND OF MAN."

Exposed by his record, abandoned by his reactionary supporters who have gone over to Karel, PHILIPP STANDS ON THE EVE OF ELECTION A DESERTED AND DEFEATED MAN. As sure as inexorable Fate, the next governor of Wisconsin will be BLAINE or KAREL.

Tell it from the housetops!

Scream it across the hills and valleys of Wisconsin:

"A Vote for PHILIPP is a vote for KAREL!"
